There are _____ main parts to any program.
_____ is where the variabls are given types, _____ is where variabls are given values, the calculations occure in the _____ stage, and _____ is where the final output occurs.

Almost every line in a C program ends in a _____. An _____ is for type integer and its conversion specifier is _____. A _____ is for decimal numbers and its conversion specifier is _____. The _____ funciton is for output and _____ is for input.

semicolon	int	declartion	printf termination	processing	double	scanf initialization	four	%lf	%d